

HIV Nutrition Training Day

When: Friday 27th February 2015, 9.00-4.30.

Where: King's Cross, London.

- New to working with people living with HIV?
- Need a refresher?
- Small HIV caseload?
- Need to meet the competencies for working in HIV care?
- Student with a keen interest in HIV?

This training day will be practical and fully interactive, with workshops, interactive exercises and case studies as well as lectures.

Training will be delivered by DHIVA members.

Topics covered include: Social and medical aspects of HIV, the importance of nutrition in HIV, monitoring and assessment, nutrition and dietetic therapy, antiretrovirals, lipodystrophy, cardiovascular risk, diabetes, obesity, and bone health.

Cost: £60 (£10 discount for DHIVA members)
£30 for students

For enquiries / booking please contact:

Alastair Duncan, Lead Dietitian, St. Thomas' Hospital:

alastair.duncan@gstt.nhs.uk

Page through switchboard: 020 7188 7188, ask for bleep 2544